

At the VOR receiver checkpoint on my home field, KIDA, depicted above, I found all of the virtual VOR displays on two different apps were off by six degrees.

Above, AOPA's FlyQ application for newer iPads also includes a 3-D synthetic vision capability, something that would be at least a $3000 upgrade on the author's Aspen PFD.